Australia's first coins – in Choice Unc quality!

Rarely seen in such a spellbinding state of preservation, we are delighted to present the 1910-11 Coin Set in Choice Uncirculated quality!

Although the Australian colonies united at Federation in 1901, it took nearly a decade for our first coinage issue. Struck at the Royal Mint, the nation's first coins comprised the 1910 threepence, sixpence, shilling and florin – the only Australian coins bearing the portrait of Edward VII. George V succeeded Edward VII in May 1910, and it is his portrait found on Australia's first penny and halfpenny coins – issued in 1911.

Although the mintages of Australia's first coins were naturally not insubstantial, as the first coins of a new system, the passage of time means that the pool of premium grade 1910-11 coinage in existence today is tiny. Seldom offered individually, let alone as a complete 6-coin set, as here, these historic coins are unquestionably rare in Choice Uncirculated – particularly the excessively rare 1910 Florin.

The Winter of 69!

Temperatures may be dropping across the nation, as we plunge into the icy depths of winter, but the coins before you are sure to create white-hot demand! Some of the finest decimal coins we have handled, these pristine 5c and 10c beauties have been officially assessed and graded at MS69 – the equivalent of breathtaking FDC quality!

Struck by the Royal Australian Mint some fourteen years ago, the 2004 5c and 2004 10c both had large mintages – and yet are undeniably scarce in the stunning state of preservation seen here. Indeed, leading US third party coin verifiers PCGS has only ever graded seven examples of the 2004 5c and a mere ten examples of the 2004 10c higher than MS69! Why is this so?

In large part, the scarcity is due to the fact that people usually search through their change for Australia's commemorative issues, and therefore neglect coins carrying our classic decimal designs. The 5c and 10c denominations are particularly prone to being ignored at the time of issue, and are seldom set aside in top quality. It is only years later that people discover that these coins are very difficult to find in the upper echelons of quality – and near-impossible to source in the magnificent, unblemished condition apparent here.

Highlighted by the sharpest of detail in the designs, combined with the most flawless of background fields, the 2004 5c and 2004 10c in MS69 are simply a must-have for the serious collector. Affordable individually, buy both and SAVE $30!

The Mexican Wave in Silver

A cracking combination of qualities that any footballer would be proud of, the official licenced 2018 FIFA World Cup Russia™ $10 Laola Mexican Wave 3oz Silver Prooflike represents flair, imagination and technique in equal parts.

Celebrating the legendary Mexican Wave, which emerged from the US in the late 1970s, early 1980s and shot to prominence during the 1986 World Cup in Mexico, this unique Solomon Islands legal tender coin is a masterwork of modern minting. Most appropriately, it has been struck in a wave-like format!

Sure to catch the eye of the collector seeking 'that something different' for their collection, each 45mm x 90mm, 3oz 99.9% silver Prooflike coin is set in an official case with a Certificate of Authenticity. Mintage just 2,018!
